the story of CORRECTBOOK

Unfortunately, 250 million children cannot read and write yet, even after four years of primary school. Lack of writing material is one of the important explanations for this. And this is one of the reasons why 773 million adolescents around the world are still illiterate today.

During my vacation in South Africa in 2014, I saw children go to school without pen or paper. It's not just because of the high price of writing material. After the purchase, the material runs out quickly and needs to be replaced. That's why I decided to take action: meet Correctbook, the erasable notebook that can be used endlessly here and in developing areas. This improves education possibilities and it saves a lot of paper. With your Correctbook purchase, we can provide children in developing areas with the same erasable writing material.

Are you in? Together we make writing accessible to everyone in the world!
